

Dual Credit Resource Communities Now Available

Dual Credit Instructors,

We will be utilizing Missouri State's Blackboard Learning Management System to better share resources and allow for improved communication. We have created department communities for all of our dual credit instructors. Here you will find announcements and resources related to your dual credit course(s) offered and Missouri State policies.

It is imperative that you access this resource as we will be shifting our communications to this format in place of emails.

How do I access these resources?

Access through your my.missouristate.edu (link to Blackboard Learn is on home tab, in the quick links section) or if you know your MSU username and password, you can login to Blackboard at blackboard.missouristate.edu.

Once you are logged in to Blackboard, you'll find the link to the organization on the Community tab (upper right corner). NOTE: If you teach dual credit courses from different departments, you may be enrolled in multiple communities.

How do I learn about announcements?

Announcements are sent by default to your Missouri State University email account. However, we understand that many instructors may have difficulty checking that account regularly. If you do not regularly check your Missouri State email account, we highly suggest setting up email forwarding to your school account or another email that you check regularly so that you do not miss important communications.

What if I can't login?

Our Knowledge Base Guide provides a step-by-step guides for:

- logging in to your Missouri State Email
- logging in to Blackboard
- resetting your Missouri State password

If you don't know your BearPass login ID, you can recover your login ID if you know your M-number.

If you need assistance resetting your password, contact the Missouri State Help Desk.
